Two full brothers to Liberator sired by The Clansman and out of the great and only Fashion Girl. These are litter brothers to Domino, the great young boar recently sold to McMillan, Blanchard, Iowa.

Three best Liberator boars to sell this year go in this sale and are out of Rood's Giantess 2nd, one of W.'s Giant's greatest daughters and a winner of first prize herself at the Indiana State Fair, 1917, and half sister to three senior boar pigs which won first, second and third at Indiana State Fair, 1917. Liberator never sired three better boars.

Giant Lill 2nd sired by Disher's Giant and out of Big Lill, litter sister to the mighty Giant Buster. She sells bred to Liberator for early January litter. A rare opportunity to raise a litter of 1920 sale toppers.

Twenty corking young sows bred to Liberator for September litters. They are big, high-backed, handsome and sired by seven of the breed's very best boars.

The Picture That Built An Industry

The picture of a big, kindly faced man holding a half of watermelon in his hand has built up the greatest industry of its kind in the world. There is no spot in Agricultural America that does not know of the William Galloway Company—"The House That Divides the Melon With Its Farmer Friends." Our policy is to give the best possible value for the lowest possible price. We've been saving money for farmers on agricultural implements since 1908. Our guarantee is unconditional satisfaction or your money back.

Visit Our Exhibit

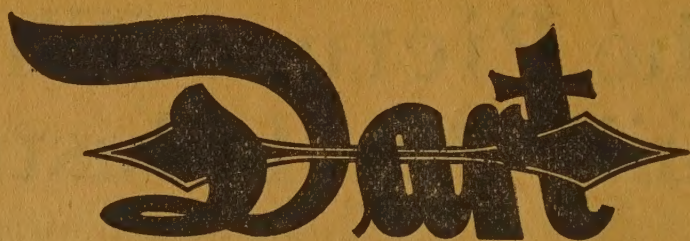

We'd be mighty glad to have you come and visit our exhibit while you are at the fair. You'll be interested in the 1920 line of powerful, easy-running Galloway engines. The 1920 Sanitary cream separator, made in four sizes, will appeal to you and the "missus." It will also be to your advantage to inspect the new low-down, big capacity No. 8 Galloway manure spreader. These three implements have made the name "Galloway" a household word wherever farm papers are read.

Times have changed since the William Galloway Company was established. Manufacturing costs have doubled and trebled in the past three years, but we are still building quality into Galloway implements and we are still dividing the melon with our farmer friends.

Come in and get acquainted with us. See for yourself that Galloway can save you big money on farm implements.

IOWA STATE FAIR AND EXPOSITION

Beautifully located on a tract of 360 acres which are ideally adapted to a fair and exposition grounds, the Iowa State Fair and Exposition has an exhibit area, automobile parking area, camping grounds, aviation field and sites for its buildings surpassing any other fair in the country. Portions of the grounds are covered with natural shade, while the balance is level and well turfed. Broad walks of brick and cement and oiled streets relieve the visitor from the annoyance of dust or mud, and make an inspection of the fair not only easy, but a decided pleasure.

VALUE OF PLANT.

The following is a balance sheet taken off the books November 30, 1919, and sets forth the assets and liabilities of the state of Iowa insofar as the state fair plant is concerned. Your attention is directed to this schedule for the reason that it shows in a condensed form the value of the plant and the cost of the same to the state of Iowa. It will be noted in the items listed under liabilities that the state of Iowa has invested in real estate and improvements at the state fair grounds, since it was permanently located in 1885, a total of $530,611.47. The present value of the plant is $1,324,184.10. It will be noted from this statement that for every dollar the state has invested in the state fair grounds it has property valued at $2.52. In addition to this remarkable showing the state fair, which is acknowledged to be one of the state's greatest and most practical educational institutions for the masses, is conducted annually without expense to the state of Iowa and has in the past ten years paid the exhibitors $656,205.42 in cash premiums.

City Bureau of Information.

Under the direction of the Des Moines Chamber of Commerce a bureau of information will be maintained during the entire time of the fair. The main branch will be in the lobby of the court house, with branch offices at the three railway stations and at the State Capitol building. The office of the Chamber of Commerce is on the second floor of the Savary Hotel at Fourth and Locust streets. A list of lodging and boarding houses, with prices, will be kept by this bureau of information, and visitors are cordially invited to avail themselves of the opportunity thus afforded, free of cost, to locate lodging and boarding houses. You can feel perfectly safe in any place recommended by the Chamber of Commerce. They will also thank you to report to them promptly any exorbitant charges made by any boarding house, hotel or restaurant, barber shop, etc.

J. P. MULLEN, Fonda,

Vice President Iowa State Fair and Exposition, and Superintendent of Implements and Machinery.

Day Nursery.

A day nursery will be maintained in the Women and Children's building. This will make it possible for mothers with small children to attend and thoroughly enjoy the fair by leaving their children in the care of the nursery. Trained nurses will be in attendance each day and for a small fee the children will be well taken care of and entertained, but mothers will be required to furnish food for their own children.

Women and Children's Building.

The Women and Children's Building is a beautiful structure located on the hill east of the stock pavilion and agricultural building. The location is ideal, overlooking the main portion of the grounds and exhibit buildings.

The building was designed, as its name would imply, for the women and children in attendance at the fair. The rest rooms are large, well ventilated and furnished with comfortable furnishings. The spacious porches offer a resting place for hundreds of people.

In addition to rest rooms and other conveniences for women and children, the building contains many exhibits and educational features, among which are the baby health department, day nursery, where babies may be left in care of trained nurses, public health exhibits, an excellent art exhibit, exhibit of state traveling library, rural school exhibit, and a room set aside for daily demonstrations in domestic science; also a large auditorium in which programs are given daily.

Emergency Hospital.

An emergency hospital will be maintained on the grounds east of the agricultural building, in charge of a skilled physician and a trained nurse, accessible day or night. The management provides the hospital building and furnishings, but each patient is expected to pay the physician for services rendered.

Check Room.

Check rooms in charge of reliable and reputable persons will be located west of stock pavilion, at the entrance of auto parking grounds and in the basement of the women and children's building. Packages may be checked at a nominal fee. Any overcharge should be reported to the management.

Post Office.

A sub-station of the Des Moines Post Office will be located on Grand Avenue, northeast of the agricultural building. The office will receive and distribute mail, sell stamps, postal cards and money orders.

Press Bureau.

The department will maintain a press bureau in the administration building with a competent person in charge. Manifold copies of the reports of awards in the live stock departments, daily programs, special orders and announcements, official decisions and all other matters of interest or value to the public will be furnished to the press. Representatives of the press at large, who may be assigned to or visit the fair during its progress, are respectfully invited to make this their headquarters and avail themselves of the facilities offered.

Express.

The express company's office will be located in a booth of the Stock Pavilion, between the north and east entrances. All express matter intended for delivery at the grounds should be marked and charges prepaid to the State Fair and Exposition Grounds, Des Moines. All express sent to individuals or firms in care of the secretary will be found at the express office and not at the office of the secretary.

A. R. COREY, Des Moines, Secretary Iowa State Fair and Exposition.

Railway Offices.

All the leading trunk lines will have offices at the grounds for the transaction of business and furnishing information relative to freight and passenger rates, departure of trains, etc.

Telegraph Offices.

A branch station of the Western Union and the Postal Telegraph Companies will be maintained in the lobby of the Administration building, also in northeast corner of Machinery hall.

Telephones.

A complete telephone system is maintained at the grounds jointly by the management and the Iowa Telephone Company. Connections may be had to any part of the grounds, free; a toll fee of ten cents for downtown connections is charged. The central office will be located in a building on the north side of Grand Avenue, at the intersection of Rock Island and Grand Avenues.

It is impossible to publish in this booklet the daily program for the fair, owing to the early date of going to press. The complete daily program will be published in due time in the leading papers throughout the state and will be posted in conspicuous places on the grounds during the fair.

Administration Offices.

All the officers and superintendents of the fair will have offices in the Administration buildings. This is a very handsome and useful office building, located in the center of the grounds. A cordial invitation is extended to everyone to make the building their headquarters while at the fair.

W. W. MORROW, Afton,
Treasurer Iowa State Fair and Exposition.

They also ask for immediate information regarding the sale of intoxicating liquors. Don't wait until the fair is over to report or file complaint, but do it immediately.

Respectfully submitted,

THE UTICA

ANNOUNCEMENT

This is the greatest year ever witnessed in the history of the Iowa State Fair. After a long period of war, the state and nation have had nearly two years in which to recover. Business conditions have been stabilized and all Iowa has returned to that condition of prosperity which marks all of the great agricultural middle west.

As a result of this, the state fair, which reflects the prosperity and progress of the entire commonwealth, carries an array of exhibits this year which far outdistances anything of its kind ever seen in the middle west. All of the vast resources of the state are represented in the great exposition halls, every line of produce and manufacture is displayed at its best.

To add to the enjoyment of visiting this great exposition, an amusement program embracing some of the most highly paid features in America has been obtained for the fair. This includes everything from the latest in aviation features to a musical program by nine of the country's biggest bands, orchestras and drum corps.

The state fair will realize in the fullest degree this year its mission of being "Iowa's Annual Outing." Everything is complete. The entire program blends into an harmonious whole. Below are some of the features of the exposition which will be of special interest to visitors.

E. J. CURTIN, Decorah,
Member Fourth District,
Superintendent Speed Department.

ENLARGED FAIR GROUNDS.

A new aviation field and twenty acres additional automobile parking space has been added to the fair grounds through the purchase of over forty acres of ground last year. The aviation field is located immediately in front of the Amphitheatre. The automobile parking space will make room for an additional 10,000 machines, relieving the congestion in this department which has marked former fairs.

LOCATION OF EXHIBITS.

A word about the location of exhibits, as some changes have been made from last year's arrangement. The exhibit put on by the United States Department of Agriculture will be found in the large exhibition room under the grand stand.

The live stock exhibit is grouped along Rock Island avenue, just inside the Rock Island entrance. All will be housed in permanent brick buildings this year.

The junior poultry department and the exhibit of rabbits will be found in a building set aside for this purpose just south and east of the street car entrance.

The poultry exhibit will be found in the poultry building in the woods at the east end of Grand avenue.

The fish and game exhibit, which will be quite elaborate this year, will be housed in tents located in the block between the Administration Building and the brick horse barn.

The Cow Test Association exhibit will be located in the dairy section of the new brick cattle barn.

AUTOMOBILE AND TRUCK SHOW.

The automobile and truck show will occupy 90,000 feet of floor space in Machinery Hall. The automobile show will include practically every known make and model, and this is also true of the truck show.

BOARD OF CONTROL OF STATE INSTITUTIONS EXHIBIT.

The exhibit from the sixteen state institutions under the Board of Control will be found at the fair this year. The institutions are exhibiting approximately forty head of Holstein cattle and also a fine herd of hogs. The cattle will be shown in the new brick cattle barn and the hogs in temporary pens in the court of the swine barn. The industrial exhibit, including many manufactured articles such as needlework, basket ware, furniture and a host of other articles will be shown in the Board of Control Building on the north side of Grand avenue near Grand avenue entrance.

INFORMATION.

The offices of president, secretary and department superintendents are located in the Administration Building; the big, vine-covered building surrounded by porches immediately across the street from the Amphitheatre. It is the logical place to go for information or any business connected with the fair. Ask about anything pertaining to the fair and if the information is not at hand, it will be searched out for you.

FARM IMPLEMENTS AND MACHINERY.

More than forty acres of ground will be required to accommodate the farm implement and machinery showing at this year's fair. This department has made such progress during the last few years that it can no longer be housed indoors.

The machinery section will include all types of equipment, farming, business, household, etc. Special stress is being laid on the display of conveniences for the housewife. Lighting, heating, cooking and cleaning devices both for the farm and city will be shown in great numbers.

Farm machinery also shows a great development this year. Giant tractors are being brought from all the big manufacturing houses in the country and will not only be on display but will also be seen in daily demonstrations in the out-of-doors. A number of new planting, harvesting and threshing outfits are also booked for exhibition.

The variety of farm machinery is greater this year than it has ever been before. It will be possible for the farmer, business man or housewife to come to the state fair this year and review practically every type of article needed by going through the 40 acres of equipment on display here.

WORLD'S GREATEST LIVE STOCK FAIR.

It has been said by authorities that the Iowa State Fair is the world's greatest agricultural and live stock fair. There is no question about the ranking of the live stock department at this year's fair. It exceeds both in number and quality of entries anything ever seen at any state fair in America.

Every branch in the live stock showings is filled to capacity. The swine pavilion reservations were all taken by the middle of July and hundreds of pens are to be shown under canvas.

The cattle department has received a tremendous impetus this year through the opening of the new $200,000 cattle barn, the largest barn of its kind on any fair grounds in America. It will house 1,600 head of cattle under one roof.

The horse department, spurred by the urging of horse breeding associations and like interests, will be the best in years. Some of the biggest breeding farms in the country have entered the pick of their stables for this showing. An excellent show is also being arranged in the sheep department, the poultry division and a fine exhibit by the rabbit breeders.

AGRICULTURAL BUILDING.

The produce of farm and field will be seen at its best in the agricultural building. More than twenty county farm bureaus will have exhibits here. Many individual farm exhibits are also entered, showing the best of Iowa's grain, fruits, vegetables and like products. The horticultural show, while it is included in this building, is a great department in itself.

The dairy department of the state will have a display of Iowa dairy products of all types and will make a special exhibit of sculpture work in butter.

There will also be a department in the building for honey and bees and all the honey products now on the market.

THE WOMEN AND CHILDREN'S BUILDING.

There will be a complete women's state fair at the exposition this year. The headquarters for it will be in the Women and Children's Building. An all-inclusive program of subjects especially appealing to women has been outlined for every day of the fair. It embraces every class of work. There will be baby health contests, style shows, pageants, home economics and housekeeping courses, lectures on child welfare by experts, sewing, cooking and canning demonstrations, conferences on welfare work of all types and dozens of other features equally appealing.

The building will be headquarters for all women at the fair. A day nursery is provided here where women may leave their children under the care of trained nurses while they go sight-seeing.

The program, which has been arranged by a special committee of the State Federation of Women's Clubs working in conjunction with fair officials, is the most elaborate ever presented at the state fair.

EXPOSITION BUILDING.

In this great structure on the hill are housed all the exhibits of textiles, fabrics, china, fancy work, etc. It also is the center for mercantile and industrial showings of all kinds.

ART EXHIBITS.

The basement of the Women's and Children's Building will be the site for all art exhibits. The chief innovation in this department this year is to be introduced in the form of a special showing of water color work by noted American painters. This has been touring America's museums under the name of the "1920 Rotary Exhibition of the American Water Color Society." Only Iowa artists are allowed to compete for prizes in the department of Graphic and Plastic Arts. This rule has been enforced in order that Iowa artists may be encouraged in their work.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE EXHIBIT.

A graphic exhibit from the United States Department of Agriculture will occupy 4,000 feet of floor space under the grand stand this year. This exhibit will be brought to Des Moines on a special train from Washington, D. C. It will be the largest exhibit of its kind ever put out by the department of agriculture.

All sorts of interesting demonstrations and displays will be included in its array of exhibits. All the bureaus of the department in Washington will be represented. Practically every subject of interest to the farmer will be dealt with.

COW TEST ASSOCIATION.

The Cow Test Association which made such an impression on fair visitors last year will have a display this season in the southwest corner of the new cattle barn. This display will be devoted especially to assisting farmers in the selection of cattle for dairy purposes and in providing some sort of standard for judging dairy cattle.

BOYS AND GIRLS' CLUB DEPARTMENT.

There will be a complete fair for boys and girls at the Iowa State Fair this year. Special buildings have even been provided, where those who are participating in competitions in the junior department may be housed during fair week. The department embraces everything which is of interest to the modern boy and girl. Special emphasis is laid on club work of all kinds.

The headquarters for this club work will be in the large building south-east of the Exposition Building. This was occupied formerly by Iowa State College exhibits. In this building will be located the display of canning, textiles and other club work. It will also be the center for demonstrations in canning, sewing, etc.

Live stock exhibits in the boys and girls' club work will be housed as follows: Baby beeves, brick cattle barn; pigs, temporary pens near the swine pavilion; sheep, regular sheep barn; poultry, in separate building southeast of street car entrance.

Boys competing in the various junior departments will be housed in the large dormitory south of the Women and Children's Building. The girls will be given quarters in a dormitory just east of the Women and Children's Building. These dormitory quarters will be provided free of charge to boys and girls entered in the junior department.

Member Eighth District,
Superintendent of Admissions.

JUDGING PROGRAMS.

Detailed judging programs for the various departments will be found at the head of those departments in this catalog.

All cattle and draft horses classed will be judged in the Stock Pavilion. The ring is large, the seats are comfortable and every opportunity is afforded the fair visitor to see the judges at work and study the true types of the various breeds of live stock. Some of the harness and saddle horses will be held in the ring located between the street car entrance and the main horse barn. Swine and sheep will be judged in the rings provided in their respective buildings.

The judging program begins Friday, August 27, with the calling of the amateur cattle classes. Judging of ponies starts Saturday. Judging the open classes for horses, cattle, swine and mutton breeds of sheep will start Monday.

MUSICAL FEATURES.

The musical features consisting of Thaviu's Band and Grand Opera Company. This band will give concerts each morning on the plaza in front of the Administration Building and each afternoon and evening in front of the grand stand. In connection with the concert in front of the grand stand at night, the band will present the International Ballet.

T. Fred Henry's Band and Soloists will play concerts on the plaza each morning and evening and during the horse show in the Live Stock Pavilion each night.

Fischer's Burlington Band will play during the show each afternoon and evening in front of the grand stand.

Mahaffey's Orchestra will occupy the stand in the Exposition Building. The Iowa State Fair Orchestra and Des Moines Ladies' Orchestra will alternate in the stands in the Agricultural Building and Live Stock Pavilion, each forenoon and afternoon.

The National Drum Corps will play daily concerts at various locations on the grounds each forenoon and afternoon.

RECREATIONAL FEATURES.

What is believed to be the most complete amusement program ever assembled at any fair in America is booked for this year's Iowa State Fair. It embraces: Two days of auto racing, August 27 and September 3; five days of horse racing, fifteen circus and vaudeville acts in front of the grand stand, Ruth Law's flying circus featuring Al Wilson leaping from plane to plane and Ruth Law's night flying; nine bands, orchestras and drum corps, a great exhibit of war trophies and demonstrations of artillery, machine guns and tanks in action, etc.

RACING PROGRAM.

The race card is a winner. The first and last days of the fair, August 27 and September 3 are turned over entirely to auto races. Some of the country's champion dirt track drivers have entered for these events and under the auspices of the International Motor Contest Association, they are certain to be spell-binders.

The other five days of the fair are devoted to horse races. The largest field ever entered on the Iowa track is listed for the various trotting and pacing events. A total of $18,000 added money is offered for the harness races and this has attracted some of the fastest talent in the west. The horse card will be full of real pleasure for lovers of clean, outdoor sport.

Two running races are on the card for each day.

NIGHT SHOWS.

Two outstanding features will mark the night shows at the fair. One of these, a spectacle in fireworks, will be staged in front of the grand stand. The other, the annual state fair Society Horse Shows will be in the Stock Pavilion.

The fireworks spectacle "The Siege of the Dardanelles," depicts with realism the struggle between the allied and German-Turkish fleets when the capture of Constantinople was attempted during the late war. It was the greatest naval conflict of the war. All of the fighting is reproduced in minute detail. This spectacle is followed by a general display of fireworks.

A complete circus and vaudeville performance will also be staged in front of the grand stand.

The Society Horse Shows, while following the plan carried out by the fair in previous years, are far more elaborate than ever before. Literally all parts of the country are represented in these shows. There will be fancy mounts and drivers, hunters, jumpers, military horses, ladies' turnouts, etc. from the blue ribbon stables of America. No lover of fine-bred horses can afford to miss one of these night shows.

On Sunday night, in addition to the regular attractions and music, there will be a special showing of "Iowa's Part in the War," a film of the 168th Infantry (Rainbow Division), at home and in the trenches. There will be a special musical program every night in connection with each show.

AVIATION.

Ruth Law's Flying Circus, featuring Al Wilson in the act of changing planes in mid-air, headlines the aviation program. Wilson performs the act which made Locklear famous. His act differs from Locklear's, however, in that Wilson does not use a rope ladder or any other device to assist him in leaping from plane to plane.

Ruth Law will put on a series of thrillers every afternoon and will race the winner of the auto races on auto race days, August 27 and September 3. She will also perform a series of stunts at night in an illuminated plane.

CIRCUS AND HIPPODROME.

Fifteen vaudeville and circus acts from the big circuits headline the program which will be given in front of the Amphitheatre every afternoon and evening. In the entire array of talent there is not a poor act. They include everything from clown stunts to high-air trapeze and acrobatic work.

FIREWORKS.

The most expensive and elaborate fireworks display ever brought to Iowa will be put on in front of the Amphitheatre each evening by the Thearle-Duffield Co., of Chicago. The great attraction on this program is a reproduction of the "Siege of the Dardanelles," the greatest naval engagement of the late war. All the phases of this desperate encounter between four great fleets are realistically reproduced. Several hundred persons are included in the caste and the scenic arrangements is hundreds of feet in extent. This main demonstration is followed by a display of fireworks.

BALLOON ASCENSIONS.

One of the most sensational balloon acts devised by modern airmen will be a daily feature of the fair. Walter W. Raub, well known stunt balloonist, will make daily ascensions with six, eight and ten parachute drops from the one balloon. He leaves the bag with all these parachutes strapped to him and cuts loose from them one at a time, making a drop of several hundred feet before each one unfolds. On some days he will take up a lady with him. each performing the same stunt.

STATE HORSESHOE PITCHING TOURNAMENT.

The first state championship horseshoe pitching tournament ever held in Iowa will open at the fair August 27. It will continue until the championship has been decided. Practically every county in the state has announced its intention to enter a team for this contest.

The tournament will take place in front of the west bleachers every morning from 9 to 12. It will continue each morning of the fair until all teams have played.

His career stands in history with such celebrities as Kit Carson and Buffalo Bill. Edith Tantlinger, the world's champion woman rifle shot and a cast of wild westerners and Indians will appear.

Don Carlo's Dog, Pony and Monkey Hotel.

A surprising and wonderfully educated and trained animal act; all performing and playing a regular comedy sketch, and for extreme novelty is an entertainment unsurpassed.

Beautiful Bagdad.

Is a musical extravaganza, presented by Mr. A. D. Murray, and directed by Lillian Carson Murray. It comprises a complete company of singing and dancing principals, prima donnas and comedians, well-known artists of reputation. A regular high-class theatrical production.

"The Girl from Delhi."

Is a mystical astral vision; a masterpiece of cosmic phenomena, unequalled in mystic art; a performance that completely astounds, bewilders, puzzles and baffles all experts. This newly discovered and invented scientific display is covered by sixteen patents and copyrights.

The Monster "Auto Stadium."

This daredevil attraction presents girls and men, reckless drivers in prize-competition automobile and motorcycle races around a 150-foot perpendicular track, through hoops of fire, a thrill a second; a sensation unequalled for daring and bravery.

Beach Models.

Is a real aquatic exhibition; all water performers with prize-medal records; fancy Australian-stroke swimmers, high divers, Monte Christo sack escapers; using a patented glass tank, illuminated with electrical effects and settings.

"Over the Falls."

For the past two years the leading attraction at Coney Island, New York, and at Riverview, Chicago. It took the inventors and constructors, Messrs. Kilpatrick and Klass, over a year's time and serious thought, costing thousands of dollars, to construct and rebuild this novelty for "the road," but the public appetite for excitement is appeased, and this novel ride will be found on the Midway.

The Popular Athletic Hippodrome.

Where the athletic contests are held, by the all-nations champions, giving several daily exhibitions in friendly contests for supremacy, wrestling and sparring matches, including local favorites.

"A Barrel of Fun."

A newly invented idea of sensational funnyisms.

The title explains itself to all visitors of this style of amusement.

War Trophies.

The largest and most complete collection of war trophies, gathered in France and Belgium by returned United States soldiers. They own all the exhibits, and no admission is charged to go into the tent.

Holland Giant.

Jan Van Albert, the Holland giant, is 9 feet 5 inches tall. He is positively the tallest human in the world, and the sight of a lifetime. This Woolworth of the human race is only 19 years old and still growing. He has proven one of the greatest attractions in this country.

Mammoth Sea Cow.

The Manitee or sea cow, is one of the few remaining species of this strange animal, which like the Buffalo, is fast disappearing. It is 11 feet long and weighs 2,000 pounds, yet is as quiet and gentle as a dog.

The Whirlpool.

The latest sensational riding device, which gives a laugh a minute and is full of fun. It interests old and young, and has many thrills.

"The Whip."

The New $15,000 Mammoth Ferris Wheel.

"The Frolic."

A new and intensely clever riding device; last season an attractive feature at Coney Island.

A Brand New $20,000 Jumping Carrousell.New Circle Swing.

This is a new riding device, which was introduced at Coney Island for the first time this spring, and the Wortham show is the only one to have the swing this season. The center tower stands over 100 feet in height, the cars, built to resemble biplane airplanes, with propellers, motor, etc., swing out in a circle 60 feet from the ground, giving the exact sensation of being in an airship, without any of the danger and without the possibility of an accident occurring.

Mile-A-Minute.

Another new ride which should prove very popular. It is the invention of Don Carlos, who has spent many years in the amusement business, and should be able to judge just what the public wants. In this ride, the people go up and down grade, through tunnels, and past scenery that resembles and gives all the appearance of high mountains. It is a sensation and a big success, because it struck a popular chord with all outdoor amusement devotees.

H. O. WEAVER,
Member First District,
Superintendent of Agriculture.

Wonder Monkey.

Crusoe, the monkey with almost human intelligence, will be one of the big Wortham features on the midway this season. This Simian has apparently mastered the intricacies of an automobile and can handle a car better than most humans. If you don't believe this go and see Crusoe drive his high-powered car, and as a fitting sensation leap the loop and gap the gap, then quietly step out of his car and smilingly acknowledge the plaudits of the spectators.

THE LEGEND BEARER'S GIFT.

Esse V. Hathaway.

Prologue.

The Legend Bearer comes swiftly out of grey mist of the past. For a long time she has seen the people of our land grow daily more indifferent to the tales of their own far-stretching plains; to the romance hidden just beyond the blue haze of low hills. Only today she saw three of her maidens, wistful-eyed and lone, drifting with the summer toward the south, their strips of birch bark on their backs, the music of their songs grown faint upon their lips because the eyes to see and the ears to hear grow less each day.

Once, long ago when the Indians roamed the plains and cut the streams in silver thread with their slender canoes, these maidens found life and strength within the magic circle of the red man's fire; the red man who had wisdom to keep his hours of silence so that his heart might keep the fineness to hear the stories of the trees, the flowers, the streams, and understand them as he heard.

The Legend Bearer comes to tell us that if our ears have still the power to catch the faint, far song of her maidens as they pass, she hopes, by magic charm, to stop them on their way, and, while our ears are listening, perhaps our ears may catch a vision of the secrets carved upon their birch bark strips. If we but listen well, the little maids may rest a bit from their long wanderings: If not, the Legend Bearer tells us that they will go completely from our lives some day. For forgetfulness means death to them.

Even as she tells us this, there comes from afar a song of quaint, sweet charm. The Legend Bearer lifts quickly to her lips a gleaming pipe of curious make, that catches up the distant strain as we are about to lose it and brings it close to us, until, with wondrous strength and sweetness, it sweeps into our very hearts. With it comes the sound of little rushing, dancing feet. Nearer and nearer they come until the three maidens are swept into our sight—shadowy creatures, timidly eager to follow the melody with tales as vividly sweet and fair as their song.

But the words upon their birch bark strips have long ago grown faint from sun and rain, and as they snatch them from their backs they find the lines so dim that they shrink back, their courage gone once more. But the Legend Bearer begs them remember how the firelight made their tales glow red with life long, long ago in twilight hours. She points to the shadows stretching from the west, and tells them to hold their birch bark over the fire which she lights, and that the first to see her tale begin to glow shall be the first to speak. With lagging step they creep back to the gleaming fire, but as the light and warmth takes the chill and glow from the shadows about them, their own light-hearted faith comes back and they watch like children to see the first color come to their legends. Suddenly one springs up with a little cry, and shows faint returning traces of silver, of deep and brilliant blue and shimmering gold, not seeing that she herself begins also to glow in colors like those of her tale. She starts to speak with eager strength and as she speaks from out of the shadows of the past there comes the Legend of Minnie-Waukon, the story of our own fair Spirit Lake of the northern Iowa land.

I.

Once, long ago, the wife of Umpashota, the great chief of the Dakotas, stole a little child from the white people and brought him to the wigwam of her chief, where he grew up not knowing that he was of another race. As he grew older, he became mighty in deeds of daring and was called Star of Day. All the tribe considered him the only young brave fit to succeed Umpashota.

Then came a time when game was scarce and victory no longer attended the tribe in battle. They thought Waukon, the Great Spirit, was angry with them, and so when they came upon the white people trespassing on their ground, they captured a maiden and led her back to their village by the lake, resolving to offer her in sacrifice and thus make peace with Waukon.

Star of Day, as bravest and most skillful, was chosen to put the maid to death, but he stood silent and apart, for he had found the maiden lovely, and she, seeing his fair skin, knew he was of her people and hoped for his help. But he looked not towards her and she grew fearful and turned away. That night Star of Day hid two horses in the deep shadows and while the village slept he unbound the maiden and sped away with her to the shore of the lake where his canoe lay waiting with swift sure stroke he sent the little boat skimming across the waves. But Waukon never slept, and now he mingled his breath with that of the wind so that the waters rose and filled the canoe until it sank, and Star of Day and the maiden passed from sight never to return again. To this day no Indian will cross the lake in his canoe, but the white man need have no fear, for the spirit of the maiden and the Star of Day still live beneath the waves and protect their own people from harm.

II.

As the first little maiden finishes her story, a second with eyes full of dreams springs forward, her piece of birch bark glittering with gold and green, while from her own tiny self float out the same rich colors of a mid-west summer day. As her face glows she tells her tale, a tale that the Sacs knew and loved, "The Legend of the Coming of the Corn."

One summer day long years ago two hunters, weary with wandering far from their village, were resting beside their fire while their venison roasted over the blazing heat. Suddenly to their great astonishment a cloud descended to earth some distance away and a beautiful maiden came from out its depth towards them. They hastened to share their meat with her, thinking she had come because she was hungry. She thanked them and told them to return to that same spot a year from then and they would be rewarded.

The year passed and despite the fun their story had caused among their tribe, the Indians returned and brought with them many of their scoffing friends. When they reached the place where the beautiful maiden had rested, they found corn growing where she had placed her right hand; and where her left had touched, beans grew in abundance, and between them grew tobacco. Ever since that time, the Sacs have cultivated corn and beans, and when the harvest comes hold ceremonies of Thanksgiving to the Great Spirit.

III.

As the second maiden completes the telling of her story, the third little figure leaps from the shadows of the fire, all scarlet and green herself, and her strip of birch bark gleaming with the same vivid colors. Her legend glows like herself, for it is the story of how the Fruit Elves saved the strawberry plant.

Once, long centuries ago, when fruit first came to bless this land, Hahgwehdaetogah, the Evil One, stole the strawberry plant and hid it away in his gloomy cave. There it lay until a golden sunbeam, nosing her way here and there, at last pierced through the blackness of the cave and brought back the plant, grown sickly in the cold, damp spot. The Fruit Elves, lest the Evil One would once more steal the little plant, watched over it night and day, loosening the soil about its roots, shaping the leaves, training the runners, and at last painting the fruit to crimson beauty. All the time they watched, so that the evil insects from the world's darkness might not spoil its loveliness. Finally, when the berries hung fragrantly ripe on the green plant, they gathered them and fed them to the children of the Iroquois Indians who roamed the tangled forest.

Epilogue.

With hearts made light, the little maidens dance gaily to their own sweet melody which calls insistently, until they drift away to rest on the top of some far distant hill. The Legend Bearer bids us not forget the tales as they will make our hearts glow, and give our minds new grace since they cause us to remember and keep faith with the love of our own hills and fields and streams.

IOWA STATE COLLEGE EXHIBIT.

In Exhibition Room Under Grandstand.

The Iowa State College exhibit in its new location beneath the Grandstand is more extensive and comprehensive than in former years inasmuch as all of the divisions of the college, Agriculture, Engineering, Industrial Science, Home Economics and Veterinary Science are represented.

The exhibit prepared by the Agricultural Division of the college will set forth many of the important results obtained recently in the Experiment Station work.

In Farm Crops will be shown the acreage of the new variety of oats Iowan grown in 1919 and 1920. The effect of height of cutting sweet clover on the second growth will be a feature of the forage crop exhibit, which will also include clovers and annual forage crops.

A huge map of Iowa showing the progress of the soil survey, together with the results of soil treatment, will represent the Soils Department.

A model farm will be shown by the Farm Management Department giving the layout of fields, planning of the farmstead and buildings. The organization of the farm together with the proper amounts and kinds of live stock will be shown. The Agricultural Engineering Department will co-operate in connection with the layout and plans of the buildings.

The Animal Husbandry Department will show in its exhibit the use of many feeds particularly molasses for steer feeding, commercial substitutes for lamb and swine feeding, soy bean hay for ewes, and care of orphan pigs.

In Dairy Husbandry will be featured the results of experiments conducted at the college in grading up herds with the use of pure bred sires and the increase of production from scrub cows.

Culling and selection and breeding for egg production will be the features of the poultry exhibits.

The Engineering Division will be represented at the fair by three exhibits. The Department of Visual Instruction will have an educational exhibit which will attempt to show the methods by which this department is taking existing information to those who have not been fortunate enough to be able to attend college. The Agricultural Engineering Department will demonstrate a few of the applications of engineering science on the modern farm.

The main engineering division exhibit will be divided into three parts. One part will be devoted to showing the latest developments in automobile engineering.

The second part of this exhibit will be a small scale representation of the group of engineering buildings at Ames. These models are all made to scale and show exactly how the group looks to a visitor on the campus.

The third part of the group will represent the world-field for Ames engineers. A radio set will be in operation bringing in the calls from every branch of industry throughout the world. Each industry will be represented by a small model of some feature peculiar to that industry alone.

This year there will be an exhibit of seven of the main departments of the Division of Industrial Science: Bacteriology—The harmful and useful bacteria on the farm; the role which bacteria yeasts and molds play in the spoilage of food. Botany—Grasses and flowering plants of the state, plant diseases with the methods of control; weeds with methods of eradication. Several of the physiological processes accompanying growth and development of plants will also be submitted. Chemistry—Work done by the students in the different courses in the department as well as the different kinds of work being done by the chemists of the staff. There will also be exhibits showing the determination of metals by micro-photography, the dyeing of goods, the composition of common substances, such as animal matter, fertilizers, farm products, hard water. Geology—Minerals used on the farm and in the home, road and building material, water supplies origin and distribution of soil material. Entomology—Life cycle of the grasshopper will be shown by this department. Migration, natural enemies and methods of control will receive attention. The 17 year locust will also be there. The relationship existing between the tip burn of the potato and the leaf hopper, one of the important research projects of the department will be on hand along with the grasshoppers. Mathematics—The Department of Mathematics promises to show how the science can serve in the capacity of making clearer some of the reactions in animal and plant life. These processes are governed by physical and chemical laws. In many cases the mathematician is able to work them out according to mathematical formulas. Military—The Military Department will place on exhibit guns, ammunition and instruments of warfare.

The exhibit of the Home Economics Department will be supplied this year by the Department of Applied Arts, one of the departments which has had rapid growth during the last few years. The aim of the Division of Home Economics is to train students as home makers, teachers and demonstrators of home economics. Recent changes have furnished unusual opportunities for specialists trained in these lines.

The exhibit will set forth the training offered to students by the Department of Applied Arts along the line of planning of homes the furnishing of homes, custom designing, arts, crafts, etc. The emphasis is placed upon practical problems in arts adapted to approved standards and higher ideals of every day living.

The work in Home Economics emphasizes the necessity for thrift, the necessity of living within one's means and saving a part of one's income. Simplicity in home planning and furnishing and the better use of leisure time and more ideal home life emphasized. The applied arts exhibit shows the application to paper and materials, resulting in better homes, better clothed people in Iowa and better trained children.

The Veterinary Science Division will set forth an exhibit of some of the results obtained in research work in animal diseases and some of the precautionary methods farmers may use to combat disease.

A musical program of the World's War music and bugle calls will be played with the display of the picture by T. Fred Henry's Band.

The film shows the camp of the regiment on the state fair grounds during the fair of 1917, the good-bye review by Governor Harding and 50,000 people; scenes in the trenches in France with shells breaking only 400 yards from the camera, the decoration of Iowa men for bravery by General Pershing; the final review on the Rhine; the arrival in New York Harbor and the triumphal tour across the state, closing with the Governor's review at the State House, May 15, 1919.

The pictures are the work of Iowa photographers and the Signal Corps, U. S. Army. The pictures showing the regiment departing for France are by Guy Woods of Des Moines and the Homecoming from New York to Des Moines are by C. D. Tinsley of Corning, commissioned by the Governor to meet the regiment upon its return and preserve on the films for posterity this historical organization's return from the victorious war for humanity. Queal Lumber at the Fair QUEAL QUALITY LUMBER was used in a number of the buildings and exhibits, the very first time a fair was operated here at these grounds. Ever since, Queal Lumber has predominated. There's a reason for its predominance.

Two Yards
220 E. Grand Ave.
and 7th and Chestnut Sts.

Just as it is used each year at the Fair grounds, it is also used in putting up many Des Moines homes and buildings.

If you are going to build, it will pay you to tell your contractor to use QUEAL QUALITY LUMBER.

BREEDERS' PRIZES.

The following prizes will be awarded to breeders in Percheron classes:

Premier Breeder's Prize.

To the breeder of animals winning the largest amount in prizes in the Percheron classesSpecial Premier Breeder's Champion Ribbon or Banner Individual Breeder's Prize.

To the breeder of all first prize American bred animals in regular single classesSpecial Breeder's Ribbon

The object of these prizes is to give recognition and credit to the breeders of all first prize animals, regardless of ownership when shown. NO ENTRIES REQUIRED, but full information as to breeding must be given with each entry.

Exhibitor's Prize.

To the exhibitor of animals winning the largest amount in prizes in the Percheron classesSpecial Premier Exhibitor's Champion Ribbon or Banner

SPECIAL PRIZES.Offered by the Percheron Society of America.

The Percheron Society of America offers the following special premiums to be competed for by the exhibitors of this show.

1. Special ribbons will be awarded to the three American-bred horses that stand highest in their respective open classes, any age, both sexes. Example—If the first, third and fourth prize aged stallions in the open class are American-bred horses and the second prize horse is imported, the three special ribbons given by the Percheron Society of America will go to the first, third and fourth prize stallions in the open class because they are American-bred. The same arrangement applies to all the other classes where individual animals are shown, except for Championships. Animals imported in dam are considered as imported animals.

2. Special ribbons will be awarded in the championship classes, and where the exhibitor is not the breeder of the winning animal, special breeders' ribbons shall be printed after the show and mailed to the breeder. These are in addition to the regular special ribbons given the exhibitor.

3. When the grand champion stallion or mare is bred by exhibitor, a sterling silver trophy will be awarded to said breeder-exhibitor, but only one such trophy will be awarded on one animal in one season regardless of how many state fair championships said animal may win.

CONDITIONS—All animals competing for above prizes must be recorded in the Percheron Stud Book of America. No animals can compete for these special premiums unless they stand on the records of the Society as owned by the exhibitor at time shown, except in get of sire, produce of dam and other group classes. Unrecorded colts are not eligible to compete for these special prizes unless the exhibitor furnishes the Secretary of the Fair with the name and recorded number of sire and dam of each such colt, together with the foaling date, and unless the exhibitor files with the Percheron Society of America application to register such colts within ten days after the close of the Fair. All animals competing must be regularly entered on the books of the Secretary of the Fair when the horses are shown, and the correct name and number of each animal given.

Give Your Cows a Chance

Many a good cow has been sent to the butcher because she was not given a chance. Give your cows a chance and give yourself a chance. Others have. You should. It is really worth while. Do it now. This valuable information can be yours. It is in the two dairy books, by Prof. Hugh, G. Van Pelt:

"How to Feed the Dairy Cow"

Difference in feeds. What work you can expect of them. How to get big values out of big-priced feeds. How to cut corners in feeding. The principal feeds and their uses. A book that will save you hundreds of dollars even on a small herd.

"Van Pelt's Cow Demonstration"

Tells you the principles which go into the makeup of a good dairy cow. How to tell a good cow from a poor one. The five points which make a cow. You can get all this information from this book.

The Acorn Press

has two booths in the cattle barn

BOYS, these two booths have been established for your convenience and your pleasure. I want to help make your days at the Iowa State Fair "red letter" days. I want you to make this section of the Fair Grounds your "stamping ground." You will find the "Welcome" door mat at every entrance to these booths. And, if I am not there to greet you personally, you will be entertained by worthy representatives of this institution who are post-graduates in the Glad Hand Extension Society. They will swap stories, talk business or pitch horseshoes with you in the hog lot. Whatever your pleasure, you will find them on their toes, eager and anxious to make your visit both interesting and instructive. I repeat, make this your headquarters! Bring your worthy helpmate and the kiddies! Yours for good cheer,

THE RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY ON THE POLAND CHINA HOG IS

The Poland China Journal

A SEMI-MONTHLY PUBLICATION

DEVOTED EXCLUSIVELY TO THE INTEREST OF POLAND CHINA BREEDERS

Put Your Herd on a Paying Basis

The Poland China Journal will show you how to put your herd on a paying basis. It gives complete information regarding the business of breeding, developing, showing and selling Poland Chinas, and while it is devoted principally to the interests of the breeders of pure-breds, it does not neglect the man who is growing hogs for the market.

This is the day of high-priced farm lands, high feed and labor. The best way to succeed is to keep informed. The pork producer must plan carefully and use modern methods if he wishes to make a success of the business. If you have one sow on your farm, you need The Poland China Journal. It comes to your home regularly on the 10th and 25th of each month as an experienced counselor. The breeding and feeding of hogs, production and care of pigs, modern methods of making the most pork in the shortest time and in the most economical manner, forage crops, alfalfa, farm homes and farm equipment—these are a few of the important subjects discussed through its columns by men who are recognized authorities on the subjects they handle. It is the show-window for the Poland China breeders of America. Subscribe today.

You Are Invited to Visit The Iowa Homestead Booth and Building

AS IN PAST YEARS, The Iowa Homestead again invites its subscribers and friends to call at its booth on newspaper row, and the tent one block west of the Live Stock Pavilion. We also extend a most pressing invitation to all who possibly can, to visit the new Homestead building at 1912 Grand Avenue. Every man and woman who honors us by calling either at our headquarters on the fair grounds or at our new home in the city will be welcomed and receive our personal attention. It is conceded that The Homestead building is one of the most beautiful structures in the state. It is equipped from top to bottom with modern machinery of all kinds used in the printing business, and we shall be delighted to show our friends through the whole building. Special guides for that purpose will be on hand throughout the entire fair week.
